BREXIT effects

As a customs representative, BERGÉ Aduanas advises and helps you to be prepare for this new scenario. In charge of any procedure that may arise from BREXIT.

Is your company prepared to BREXIT?

BREXIT will affect your company if it:

- + Sells goods or provides services to the UK.
- + Buys goods or receives services from the UK.
- + Transports goods across the UK.
- + Uses UK materials and goods to trade under preferential regimes with EU partner countries.

BERGÉ Aduanas helps you in this new scenario

BERGÉ is customs agent since 1870 and currently, as a customs representative, has AEO authorization.

As a customs representative, we facilitate and advise you on transactions with third countries and on the application of trade policy.

As of the 1st January

The UK will have third-country treatment and any movement of goods with this country will require:

- + Have at your disposal EORI and VAT valid to import to a destination country of the EU.
- + Revision of Incoterms.
- + File customs declarations when importing, exporting or transporting your goods through the UK.
- + Provision of protection and security data.
- + Overcoming additional border controls depending on the nature of the goods.
- + Having a special license to import or export certain goods.
- + Carrying out additional procedures to import or export goods that are subject to excise duties.
- + Accomplishing this type of procedure on occasions, outside normal opening hours or at weekends.
- + Tariffs and other taxes applicable to imports.
- + Settling VAT in the EU country where goods are imported to the UK.
